OUR OYSTERS: DID YOU KNOW?..

- Oyster farming originated in China. A hundred years BC, the Roman Sergius Orata introduced oyster farming to Europe.
- The Grevelingen oyster is the same oyster as the Japanese or the creuse, familiar to us. The big difference is in the water regime and where the oyster grows up.
- These oysters are cultivated on tables and thus have plenty of nutrient-rich water to grow in. An additional advantage is that the oysters at this height are rid of oyster borers (the oyster's enemy).
